

Emanuel Ștefan Trică – Demography/Migration Expert

Emanuel Ștefan Trică is expert in demography and population census with the National Institute of Statistics. He held management positions in the demographic statistic department and in the censuses which took place in 1992, 2002 and 2011, coordinating the organizing, methodology and data dissemination activities. He graduated in 1975 the Academy of Economic Studies, faculty of Economic Cybernetics with specialization in informatics. He is PhD in demography with the University of Bucharest, his work being “Territory differentiations of the demographical aging process in Romania. In 2005, Mr. Trica participated to the Republic of Moldova population and household census as observer. He also participated to several workshops organized by the offices of statistics of France, Germany, Portugal, Slovenia, EUROSTAT and United Nations – Geneva.