

Florina Pînzaru – Microeconomics Expert

Florina Pînzaru is Economics Expert in the State of the Nation project and Dean of the Faculty of Management at the National University of Political Studies and Public Administration (SNSPA), Bucharest. She holds a PhD title in Economics and International Business and a MA degree in Strategic Marketing from the Bucharest University of Economic Studies (ASE), both obtained in 2007. She is also a graduate of the faculties of Communication and Public Relations – SNSPA (2002) and of Economics and International Business – major in International Economics – ASE (2003). She has been Visiting Student at Sciences-Po Paris (2001-2002) and has marketing experience in the energy field. Mrs. Pînzaru has published numerous articles of economics and business administration in prestigious international academic journals.